

SOCIETY

TODAY'S EVENTS.

Mrs. W. H. McIntyre and Mrs. Fred Dorn will entertain this afternoon with a bridge tea, the first of a series to be given at the McIntyre home in Seventh avenue.

A theatre party will be given by Mrs. O. H. Parker this afternoon at the Colonial theatre.

An informal luncheon will be given today by Mrs. H. G. McMillan, complimentary to Mrs. Joseph Brinker of St. Louis and Mrs. Kinkaid of Berkeley, Cal.

Mrs. Archibald E. Rykert of Paris will be the guest of honor at an afternoon tea to be given today from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Mrs. C. H. Morehouse will be the hostess this afternoon at a bridge tea to be given at her home in First avenue.

A five hundred party will be given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. George Putnam in honor of Mayor and Mrs. John S. Brinsford.

Mrs. Walter E. Eldredge and Mrs. John K. Nicholson will entertain this afternoon with a five hundred party to be given at the home of Mrs. Nicholson in E street.

Mrs. W. A. Critzer will be the honored guest at an informal Kensington tea to be given this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. O. Lee in the Miller flats.

Mrs. L. Mayer will be the hostess this afternoon at a bridge tea to be given at her home in the Oaks apartments.

An informal bridge party of the day will be that with which Miss Kate Groo will entertain a few friends this afternoon at her home in South Fourth East street.

Mrs. Orange J. Salisbury, jr., was the hostess last night at a delightful dinner party given in honor of Miss Genevieve McCormick, whose marriage to Walker Salisbury will take place a week from today.

Captain and Mrs. T. R. Harker, Lieutenant and Mrs. Clark Elliott, Lieutenant Sullivan and Mrs. O. H. Parker were guests at a theatre party given last night at the Salt Lake theatre.

A delightful dinner party given last evening was that with which Mrs. F. E. McGurran entertained a few friends informally at her home in the Bransford apartments. Covers were laid for six guests.

Two delightful affairs given yesterday were the card parties at the home of Mrs. J. J. Buswell in Third avenue, the hostesses being Mrs. W. M. Buswell and Mrs. J. J. Buswell. In the afternoon a bridge tea was given, five tables

Skimmed Milk is Pure

But would you put it in your coffee in preference to rich cream? Hardly.

Ordinary Vanilla May Be Pure

But why injure the flavor of your desserts when you can get the finest, purest, most delicious extract made at practically the same cost?

being played, and the prizes being awarded to Mrs. C. H. Morehouse, Mrs. A. H. Ensign, Mrs. A. H. Peabody, Mrs. Charles Blanchard and Mrs. Bothwell. In the evening the hostesses entertained six tables at a five hundred party. Those who assisted in the serving were Mrs. J. R. Davis and Mrs. Mark Reedall. In the dining room a color scheme of green and white was carried out in the decorations. Dainty point lace doilies covered the table, and a cluster of white carnations in a silver vase formed the table centerpiece. Sprays of asparagus ferns were strewn about the table with pretty effect. Throughout the other rooms yellow chrysanthemums were used in the decorations.

A delightful bridge tea given yesterday afternoon was that with which Mrs. S. L. Mayer entertained at her home in the Oak apartments. Vases of yellow asters were used with pretty effect in decorating the small bridge tables. Five tables were played and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Wilbur Henderson, Mrs. L. L. Archer, Mrs. M. B. Stanley, Mrs. Nottage and Mrs. Olive Gaylord. Mrs. Mayer was assisted in serving by Mrs. Weir James.

A pretty affair given yesterday was the tea given by Mrs. Murray Godbe and her sister, Miss Clint Young, at the home of Mrs. Godbe. The guests of honor were Mrs. A. W. Jacobs and Mrs. C. L. Jacobs, who will leave Saturday for their home in Rochester, N. Y. The house was charmingly decorated in clusters of yellow chrysanthemums. Eighteen guests were invited to meet the complimented guests.

Mrs. John L. Bowman was the hostess yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Woman's club. The house was prettily decorated in the season's flowers, chrysanthemums, asters and carnations being combined with pretty effect. On the dining table a large mound of the blossoms was used. During the afternoon a delightful literary and musical program was rendered, a special feature being the delightful readings given by James Rennie. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. T. W. Whiteley Tuesday, Nov. 23.

The members of the Quingenta Card club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Simon H. Black at her apartments in the Arlington in First avenue. The prize winners in the card games were Mrs. C. H. Harlan, Mrs. H. W. Sherwood and Mrs. F. Shumway. Mrs. W. H. Ellison of East Second South street will be the hostess of the club at its next meeting, to be held Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 23.

A notable wedding that took place in Denver yesterday, was that of Miss Jessie Peabody, daughter of former Governor James Peabody, and Lieutenant Cuthbert Powell Stearns of the Third United States cavalry. Miss Minette Baer of this city was an attendant of the bride.

Miss Genevieve McCormick, who will be married next week, will be the complimented guest at a luncheon to be given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Union Worthington at her home in Second avenue.

At the next meeting of the Regimental Bridge club, to be held at the hop hall at Fort Douglas on Friday evening, Nov. 26, those entertaining will be Mrs. W. A. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Clark Elliott, Lieutenant Garey and Lieutenant Huddleson.

Walker Salisbury will be the host at a stag dinner to be given for a number of his friends on Thursday evening at the Alta club.

A party that will leave soon for California.

THE DAILY PATTERN

FRONT CLOSING WAIST. There are several advantages in this design, as it has the general appearance of a dress waist, with pointed collar and tucks, in front and back, but is as easily put on as a dressing skirt. The collar is sewed to the neck of the waist and both close in front with buttons.

The material used for the model illustrated was plain white with tiny bands of bright rose pink, used on the front, collar and cuffs. The ruffled edge is white lawn with a tiny binding of the pink.

This pattern is cut in five sizes, 32 to 40 bust measure. Size 36 requires 31-3 yards of 27 inch material. Price of pattern 452 is 10 cents. No. 452.
